SPRAY PAINT VANDALISM—BaySide Park Civic Association Member Charles Milford surveys graffiti painted on the walls of the association's headquarters. All four sides of the building were covered with obscene language. Eggs were thrown on the walls and inside the building through an opening. The spray painting incident in BaySide Park is the latest in a series of similar occurrences, including offensive language sprayed on Bay St. Louis City Hall and Gulf Publishing Company office in Bay St. Louis and an outbreak of spray paint vandalism in Gulfport. Supervisors ok proposal for county building code

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved a proposed building code for use if voters decide the county needs one.

In a joint meeting with the Hancock County Planning Commission Tuesday, the supervisors agreed to accept the Revised Southern Standard Building Code, a set of regulations used in most cities along the Gulf Coast.

According to Bill Reid of Gulf Regional Planning Commission, who is assisting the county commissioners with the code, the revised version contains some material pertinent to hurricane and flood zones.

The supervisors voted unanimously on further revision to exclude out-buildings and any farm-related buildings other than residence from the code restrictions.

Reid said the administrative structure already used for the county commission's enforcement of floodplain regulations can also serve to enforce a building code, although one inspector will have to be hired.

Since final approval of a building code still rests with the supervisors if a November referendum on the matter passes, the board has the option of imposing an electrical code along with the Southern Standard Building Code, he added.

The supervisors are also planning to assist the Reid and the commissioners in setting up and publicizing a series of informational hearings on the proposed code.

The commission meets at 4 p.m. today and plans to work on the hearing schedule. Commissioner Herbert J. Marsh III said.

The referendum will be in November and was authorized by a local and private bill obtained during the 1986 legislative session.

School board approves administrative pay hikes

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A 10 percent raise for the school district superintendent and seven percent raises for all principals was approved by the Hancock County School Board Tuesday.

This raise will bring Superintendent Terrell Randolph's salary from $39,050 to $42,955. He had requested a 22 percent raise of $8,500 for an annual salary of $47,550.

Randolph said the request was to bring his salary in line with the salaries of other school superintendents along the coast.

"Our teachers are the fifth highest paid in the state and school administrators' salaries are equal to that of others in the area," he said.

Randolph also said he had significantly increased the salaries of non-certified personnel in the school district.

"I am the lowest paid in relation to other area superintendents and am just asking for equal pay," Randolph said.

Also according to Randolph, the school district has received an accreditation deficiency for the past four years because the superintendent is not the highest paid employee in the district.

State law requires the superintendent be paid at least one dollar more than any district employee.

With fringe benefits Hancock North Central Principal Donald Hillman makes more than the superintendent, Randolph said.

The fair market rental value of the house occupied by Hillman as well as the insurance premiums on the house must be added to his salary to determine the true figure, he added.

With the $3,905 pay increase Randolph's salary will now be the highest in the district.

Hillman's $35,780 (including the seven percent raise) salary plus $4,800 fair market rental value and $1,200 insurance premiums on the house totals $41,780. This figure is $1,175 below Randolph's new salary. Monday's action also increased Assistant Superintendent James Pair's salary from $33,440 to $35,780.

Charles B. Murphy Principal Philip Terrell's salary increased from $27,272 to $29,181 and Gulfview Elementary Principal W. H. Hadcock received a raise from $29,883 to $31,974.

The seven percent raise gave higher raises than recommended for all administrators except David Koph.

Randolph recommended a raise of approximately 11.5 percent, from $24,233 to $27,000. He said the higher raise was due to the low salary Koph had started with in the district.

Board President Billie Faye Lyons said Wednesday she believed the board had not meant to give Koph an amount less than recommended.

Controversy over 16th section parcel ends with $6,000 gain for school district

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Ending a nine-month controversy over a parcel of Sixteenth Section land, the Hancock County School Board leased the parcel to the high bidder Monday.

A 25-year lease for the 1.28 section of land fronting on the Ceasar-Necaise Road was approved for Oliver Lee for an annual fee of $515. The controversy stemmed from the intended use by Picayune resident Durwin Spence who originally requested a commercial lease on the property in December 1985.

Spence appeared before the board at its April meeting and stated he intended to build a "nice" convenience store on the site.

Oliver Lee, who lives adjacent to the property protested the location of the store next to his property.

At the April meeting and subsequent meeting refused to reclassify the land to allow commercial use.

In May board members received a letter from the secretary of state's office reminding them Sixteenth Section lands must be classified to produce a maximum revenue by proper utilization.

On the third attempt in June the parcel of land was reclassified.

Spence entered a bid of $390 per year on the property.

Lee's bid was approximately $235 over the estimated fair market value of the property.

The high bid will bring the district nearly $6,000 in additional revenue than if the parcel had been leased just for the fair market value amount.

School Board Attorney Joseph Gex Jr. said the $515 lease amount would be applicable for the length of the lease or 25 years.

"The only way the lease would be negotiated to a lesser amount is if there is a significant change in the property that would decrease its value," he added.

Citizen asks help in obtaining release of buffer zone land

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has verbally agreed to assist a local resident in efforts to have land in the National Space Technology Laboratories buffer zone released back to its owners.

Joe Manieri, whose family owns land located in the buffer zone north of Lakeshore, appeared before the board Tuesday to ask for information and a resolution.

The board verbally agreed to supply Manieri with any information that may prove useful in his efforts to have restrictions on buffer zone land lifted or relaxed.

Board President A.A. Kellar said the supervisors have already passed numerous resolutions asking that the federal government release the land.

He added that those efforts were unsuccessful, but the board is willing to support further efforts.

Manieri said he wants a waiver on the restrictions for privately owned land in the buffer zone because he feels owners should be able to make use of their property and said he is prepared to go to court on the matter.

If the waiver can not be obtained, he said he will consider the easement his family granted the federal government "null and void in conflict with our constitutional rights."

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson also agreed to help, saying that the county is required to provide law enforcement in the uninhabited buffer zone.

"It's expensive, but the government has not contributed anything," Peterson said.

Kellar also said that promised tax breaks for land in the buffer zone never materialized after the area was classified as military property. Manieri called the problem "a very confusing situation for me."

Waveland drops one-cent levy

BY DENA BISNETTE

Waveland's sales tax has been reduced from seven cents to six cents.

According to Lucien Gex, attorney for the Waveland Board of Aldermen, the additional one-percent sales tax was levied to pay off a judgement that resulted from a suit filed against the city in 1975.

A letter from L.C. Robinson, chief of the Sales and Use tax Division of the State Tax Commission, has been sent to all Waveland merchants.

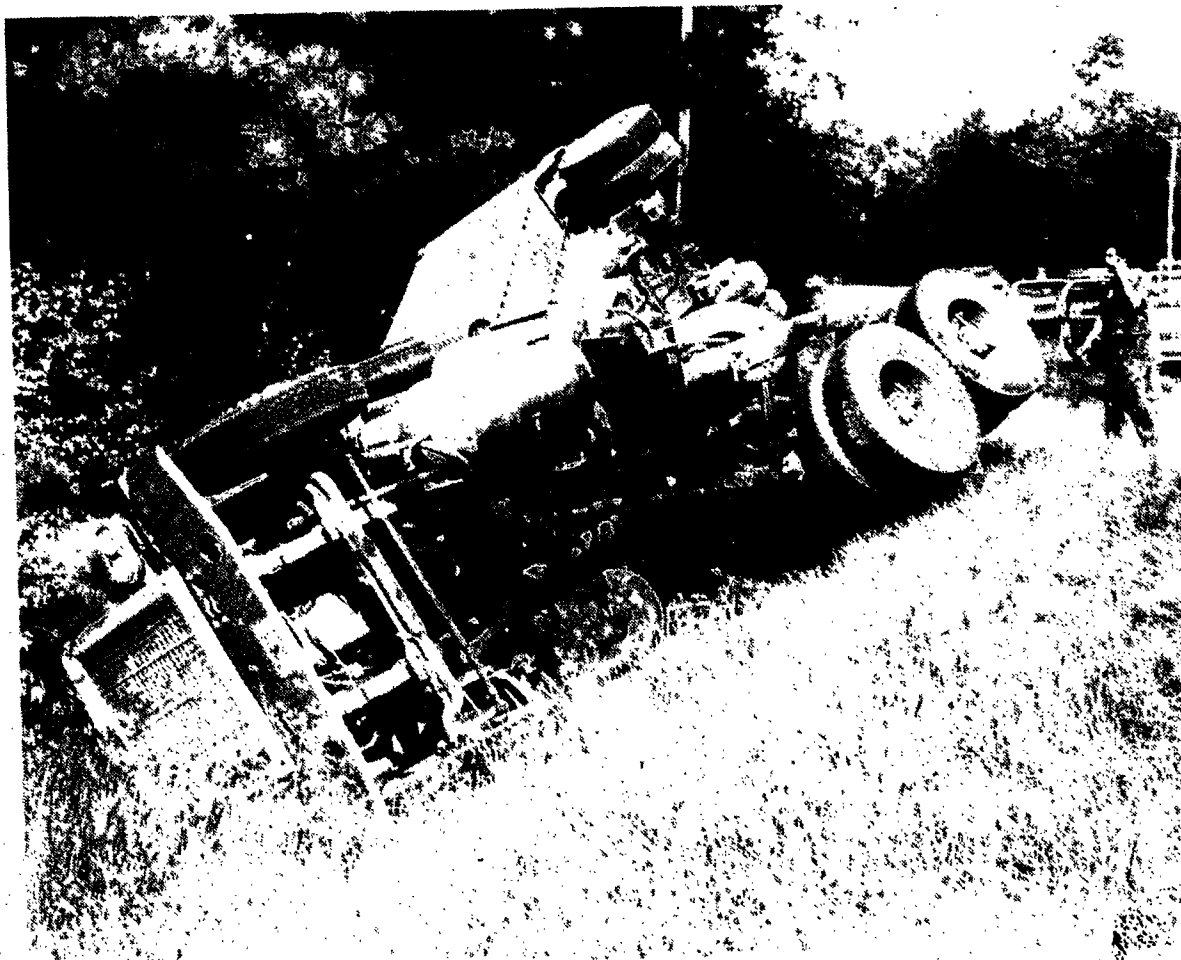

The letter states that the tax should no longer be collected after Aug. 31.

Gex said that as far as he knows, all merchants have stopped collecting the tax.

The tax had been collected since 1984, when a judge ruled that Waveland could use a special sales tax to pay a settlement to Travellers Indemnity Inc., resulting from a dispute over the installation of the city's sewerage system.

The State Tax Commission was named to serve as collection agency in the case.

The remaining six cent tax is levied by the state.

TRUCK ACCIDENT—Mike Perniclaro of N.A. Perniclaro Wrecker Service ponders first move to remove tractor and trailer loaded with dirt from ditch at intersection of Highway 663 and Longfellow Road Wednesday morning. The truck driver, Walter Stephenson of Abbeville, La., said that he was uninjured in the mishap. The driver told police he had been traveling behind an auto for sometime and when the vehicle made a sudden stop to turn onto Longfellow, he tried to avoid a collision by leaving the road and struck a culvert before overturning. W.H. Stephenson, the driver's father and owner of the truck, was following in a pickup truck and said the tractor was a 1962 Peterbilt and was hauling fill for a new construction site. Mississippi State Trooper Fred Keel investigated. He was assisted in traffic control by Hancock County deputy sheriffs and a Waveland patrolman. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

BaySide resident charged with rape

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Law enforcement officers this week arrested and charged Theodor Danny Gibson, 32, of Route 7, Box 454, Bay St. Louis with rape.

The charges stem from an incident early Wednesday morning, according to Investigator Alvin Ladner.

A white female was abducted off Lower Bay Road, taken into a wooded area and raped, Ladner said.

Gibson was identified by the victim. Several witnesses also have placed Gibson in the area near the time when the incident occurred.

Gibson, who was on parole for armed robbery in Alabama, is being held in the Hancock County Jail.

Ladner said no bond would be set since Alabama authorities had placed a hold on Gibson for violation of parole.

Gibson had applied for a transfer of his case to Mississippi and was in the area on temporary travel orders.

He had served eight years of a 25-year sentence before being paroled.

Tot mauled by dog in BaySide Park

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A BaySide Park youth was hospitalized for four days after being attacked by a dog.

Hancock County Criminal Investigator Glen Strong said, “The two and one-half-year-old child was mauled behind the head early Friday and also lost a portion of an ear during the attack which occurred at the corner of Hancock and Bolivar Streets in BaySide Park.”

“The worst part of the incident was that it took two days to locate the animal. The doctors at Gulfport Memorial were to the point within minutes of giving the youngster the rabies series of shots in addition to his other injuries from the attack,” Strong added.

The child was released from the hospital on Tuesday.

The animal was located Saturday after a two-day search.

Strong said indications are that the owner of the dog was also a parent of the child.

The dog is being kept and monitored at the Hancock County Animal Shelter, Strong stated.

In addition to an investigation by the sheriff's department, the incident is also being investigated by the Hancock County Welfare Department.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some legal rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your rights.)

Q: WHAT ARE A CONSUMER'S RIGHTS IF HE BUYS AN ITEM THAT TURNS OUT TO BE DEFECTIVE?

A: When a consumer buys an item from a merchant, such as a storeowner, the law requires that the item be “merchantable.” That is, the item must be in workable condition and must not be defective in any material way.

If by chance, the item is defective, the consumer has a few alternatives. He can return the item to the merchant immediately after discovering the problem and receive a refund of the purchase price. This alternative is not available if the defect is one that the consumer should have discovered before taking the item home. In addition, the storeowner often has a right to offer to cure the problem by replacing or repairing the item instead of refunding the purchase price.

If the consumer decides to keep the defective item, or if he waited too long to return the item and obtain a refund, he may still have a claim against the storeowner.

He is entitled to damages from the storeowner in an amount equal to the difference between the value of the item as it should have been and the value of the item in its defective condition.

For example, if a consumer purchases a food processor for $300 but because of defects it is only worth $200, the consumer is entitled to $100 in damages from the merchant. Again, the merchant retains the right to repair or replace an item rather than paying damages to the consumer.

It is important that the consumer act promptly in returning the defective merchandise and specify the particular problem.

Q: HOW ARE A CONSUMER'S RIGHTS AFFECTED IF HE HAS SIGNED A FORM OR RECEIVED A PAPER FROM THE MERCHANT WHICH STATES THAT THE MERCHANT MAKES NO WARRANTIES CONCERNING THE ITEM PURCHASED?

A: The consumer's rights are not affected. Mississippi law provides that a merchant cannot remove the warranty of merchantability as discussed above by attempting to disclaim the warranty.

Q: What are the rights of a customer whose bank returns his check to a store unpaid?

A: Unless there is a reason for not honoring a check, such as lack of sufficient funds in the account, a bank is responsible to its customer for wrongfully refusing to pay a check. The bank is liable to the customer for the amount of the check, as well as for any damages that might have been caused by the bank's actions. For example, if the customer had to pay additional charges to the store because of the returned check, the bank may be responsible for those charges.

Q: Does a bank have a right to pay a check from a customer's account even if the payment causes the account to be overdrawn?

A: Yes. Although a bank certainly is not required to pay a check if the customer's account lacks sufficient funds to cover it, the bank may pay the check if it chooses to do so. Then, when the customer deposits additional funds in the account, the bank may apply those additional funds to cover the overdraft.

Parents protest attendance requirements

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Protesting attendance requirements, parents of two students addressed the Hancock County School Board Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stockstill told the board they believed it was punishment to their daughter, Lisa, to hold her in the ninth grade although she had passed the required courses to advance to the 10th grade.

Hancock North Central High School Principal Donald Hillman said that Miss Stockstill had excessive absences during the year and failed to make them up in summer school.

Stockstill explained his daughter had been ill several times during the past year and was unable to attend school but still had made passing grades in her classes.

He also said his and his wife's work schedules had prevented his daughter being in summer school.

"I just don't think it's fair for you to make Lisa repeat a year of her life," Mrs. Stockstill said.

"You are punishing her for being sick," she added.

She also stated that such a policy would encourage students to drop out of school after they had missed too many days.

Brenda McDuffy told the board her daughter was being held back in the eighth grade although she had a signed diploma.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph told the parents the attendance policy had been set by the board to discourage students from missing so many days of school.

"The high absenteeism rates in the county schools cost the district $200,000 a year," he added.

Board President Billie Faye Lyons told the parents the summer school had been provided to keep students from having to repeat a year.

The board took no action on the matter.

However Board Member George Ladner said he believed the limit of eight days to be missed by students listed in the student handbook would cause problems and encourage students to return to school before fully recovered from an illness.

The board agreed to discuss the matter further at the next meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 9.

Also addressing the board was James Ladner, President of the Hancock County Cattleman's Association and Hancock County Extension Service Agent Lee Taylor.

Both Ladner and Taylor encouraged the board to hire an agriculture teacher for Hancock North Central High School.

Also at the meeting the board approved a list of substitute bus drivers. The list includes Millie Breaun, Charles Burton, Norris Chasson, Charles Cuevas, Jessie Dupree, Annie Emmons, Debbie Ladner, Rose Lee, Betty Necaise, Glenda Chasson, Sunny Falode, Coy Wright, Floyd Ladner, Karen Ladner, Myra Ladner, Barney Cuevas, Chris Austin, Ronald Sumner, Mark Breaun and Mae Cuevas.

In other action the board approved resolutions to reduce the budget by $303,724 and to borrow the same amount in a short term note.

Randolph told the board purchasing computer equipment and four new school buses with fund derived from a short term loan would save the taxpayers money as the millage would be reduced.

Asking prices close to market values, real estate survey shows

People selling their homes tend to have a surprisingly realistic assessment of the market value of the home, a recent nationwide survey suggests.

"Today's home buyers and home sellers watch what's happening on the market and do a lot of comparison shopping," said Herb Dubuisson, broker with ERA Bayshore Realty in Waveland.

"On a national average, homeowners tend to overestimate the market value of their home by about $5,000, according to our spring national real estate poll. When you consider the average price of a home today, that margin of error seems relatively small."

The poll, conducted by Opinion Research, Inc. of St. Louis, surveys more than 400 independent and franchise real estate brokers across the U.S.

The poll also indicated that homes are not likely to sell for a lot less than the asking price. Poll results show that homes across the country tend to sell for an average of 7.3 percent below list price. Broker responses ranged from an average of 6.8 percent in eastern and central states to 8 percent in the south where home buyers evidently can expect a slightly larger discount.

"This indicates that those buying homes should not expect to knock off huge amounts from the asking price," said Dubuisson.

Nationally, the average price of a resale home is $98,600, the poll revealed. This figure is up from $93,100 one year ago. Looking into the future, brokers estimated that the same home will be worth $118,800 in 1990, a gain of more than 20 percent.

"There are wide regional differences in the average price of a home, however," Dubuisson said. "In Hancock County, I'd estimate the average sales price of a home today is $50,000."

United effort helps make telethon a success

A joint effort by many folks can accomplish many things.

A fine example was the Annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy's Telethon.

Our area is represented by the Waveland Civic Association in the telethon and this was their tenth year of participation.

As usual, Jimmy Lagasse Jr., was the chairman, and indications are a record amount of pledges and contributions will be coming from Hancock and western Harrison counties.

Channel 26 in New Orleans covers many communities for the telethon, and our local donations were right up there with the top givers.

Of course, New Orleans led the pack, but Waveland ran a close third to much larger cities such as Houma and Slidell.

Lagasse has estimated that the local contributions on a per capita amount would place the area much above every community which participated in the Channel 26 coverage area.

The reason for the success comes from the dedication of so many folks, such as Bay St. Louis Firefighters with assistance from BaySide and Clermont Harbor Volunteer fire departments.

They collected more than $1,700 on US-90 during a three-day period.

Waveland Firefighters, in addition to Pass Christian's turned in a large amount of monies collected for the Muscular Dystrophy telethon.

In viewing television we noted the big corporations and organizations which donated the hundred thousands and millions of dollars, yet the telethon's big success really depends on the little folks like those in our area.

Those who give, and those who collect the 50 cents, $1, $5, and etc.

Political leaders such as Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr., and Alderman Louie Smolensky and Bay St. Louis Councilman Lisa Cowand all took some of their Labor Day weekend to help with telephone pledges.

Pulling together can get many things done, and we hope the monies collected locally will help in coming up with a cure for muscular dystrophy.

Lagasse, who is referred to as the 'Rock', has his own battle with cancer, yet he found the time to lead the local group for the tenth consecutive year.

Lagasse did ask us to express a sincere appreciation to each and everyone who helped to make the 1986 Muscular Dystrophy drive a tremendous success.

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY HELPERS—Jimmy Lagasse Jr., center, chairman of the Waveland Civic Association's Annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy gives local pledge amount to New Orleans Channel 26 representatives on Labor Day morning. Among the many who helped man the telephones were from left, Irene Giacconi, a volunteer for the tenth year;

Joan Wilkinson, Lagasse, Mickey Lagasse, and Jean Longo. Lagasse feels this year's collection in Hancock and western Harrison Counties will set a record when all pledges and donations are received. Les Galian was chairman for the local drive and Civic Association President Carlos Arnold kept tally on the pledges. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

High School football time is once again here. Action will be under way on Friday night with all local teams opening their 1986 season.

Several local coaches in commenting about the coming season, have told us they expect a good year in local football play, as there are several very exciting players in the area.

The Tigers of Bay High will get their big test on Friday night when they host the Stone County Tomcats at Tiger Stadium.

Bay High will be hard pushed to equal last season's performance, as it was the best year the Tigers have had in recent times.

Tiger head mentor Cleland Williams should have the Tigers ready for the Tomcats.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will be playing host to St. John's Eagles Friday night.

Coach Irvin Favre, who has been head mentor for many years, has teams which always display an exciting style of football, and the Eagles should have a big job on Friday night.

Hancock appears to have a good team this year. Head Coach Vernon Powell will take his Rock-A-Chaws to Pearl River, La. on Friday night.

Reports indicate that St. Stanislaus will field a young team this season, and they could be a big surprise to many opponents.

The Rebels have returning the number one tailback in their conference for 1985.

The Rock-A-Chaws will have to contain him in order to bring a victory home.

Pass Christian's Pirates will entertain d'Iberville in Pass Christian Friday night.

Head Coach Alton Wright will have to get a super performance from his Pirates to take d'Iberville. The Warriors always seem to be strong contenders.

Our local teams need fan support, so we hope the stands will be filled with Hawk, Tiger, Rock-A-Chaw, and Pirate fans on Friday night. Remember, kickoffs are at 7:30 p.m.

The number of people exercising in our area is really on the increase.

Joggers, walkers, and bike riders are quite common, and can be seen just about any time of the day or night.

On a drive down Beach Boulevard to Waveland on Labor Day morning, we noted several persons exercising.

My favorite exercise is walking and I try to get in a couple of miles about four or five times a week.

Eyes on Mississippi

JACKSON—What has been called nationally the "insurance crisis" and a collateral demand to put a lid on liability judgments in tort cases apparently will again become a major issue in the next session of the Mississippi Legislature.

Last session, as part of the nationwide campaign by the insurance industry to put through tort reform in every state, a Mississippi coalition of insurance, business and medical interests mounted a major assault on the Legislature to limit non-economic damages.

Their effort fizzled, however, when insurance spokesmen failed to make a convincing case before Senate and House Judiciary committees that there was an insurance "crisis" or that the main cause of soaring insurance rates was excessive jury awards.

An insurance industry group came up with egg on its face when ads and news releases it had circulated around the state were found to erroneously attribute an $8 million jury award in a death case against a major insurance company to a "clerical error" by the company. The finding in the case was based on the company's bad faith.

Although the issue of tort reforms was laid to rest in the 1986 session of Mississippi's Legislature, 23 other states this year have passed tort reform in some form.

The most notable of those was in Florida, where the state lawmakers put a cap of $450,000 on any judgment for "pain and suffering." It also tied the measure to a 40 percent rollback in liability insurance premiums.

In several states the insurance industry has come in for intense scrutiny of insurance rates which many authorities contend have skyrocketed the past two years due to "self-inflicted wounds" in the insurance industry rather than jury awards in liability cases.

This contention holds that the insurance companies lowered premiums in the early 1980s to sell policies so they could invest more money in high-interest investments. Now that interest rates have come down, the contention is they have jacked up rates on liability insurance to cover costs and recoup their investment losses.

One weakness of the insurance companies' case before the Mississippi legislative committees was they were unable to show how much of their losses had been paid out in lawsuits.

A number of Mississippi legislators report they are being besieged by their local businesses, doctors and others hit by the soaring insurance rates to do something about limiting judgments.

Some Mississippi political observers contend that if some compromise is not reached on legislation for tort reform (tort law is adjudication of civil wrongs such as negligence and medical malpractice) in the 1987 session, it will become a gut political issue in next year's legislative elections. The result, some believe, is that it could set up an anti-lawyer wave in legislative elections.

The Mississippi State Medical Association, which had joined the coalition with the insurance industry and business groups last time, now is disassociating itself from the coalition in the wake of the 1986 disaster.

One Medical Association spokesman observed, "they (the insurance companies) are an albatross around our neck in trying to get tort reform."

Recently, State Medical Association representatives have begun a series of meetings with representatives of the Mississippi Trial Lawyers' Association, the major foe of the bill to limit non-economic damages, in an effort to work out a compromise measure before the next legislative session.

Mississippi Manufacturers Association, one of the key leaders in the movement to limit liability awards also apparently has some qualms about being too closely connected with the insurance industry in its bid for tort reform before the Legislature.

"But as far as our members are concerned, there is still a crisis in insurance, not just the cost, but in the availability of insurance," said Clyde McLeod, legislative lobbyist for the MMA. "If you don't have insurance, you can't stay in business."

Some proponents of limiting jury awards to non-economic damages are concerned that the Mississippi Legislature could follow the lead of Florida in putting a cap on awards, but severely rolling back insurance rates.

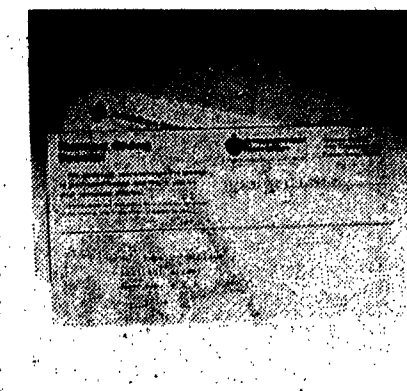

Mississippi is already a marginal state for insurance companies to do business, unlike Florida, some contend any drastic rollback in premiums in Mississippi could drive many of them out of the state.

Meantime, the State Insurance Commission has frozen property-casualty insurance rates until Jan. 1 at the request of State Insurance Commissioner George Dale in order to get a task force to study the so-called insurance crisis in the state.

"We don't know what to do (about the crisis)," said Dale, "but at least the clock won't be running while we are trying to find out."

But Dale believes if there is tort reform, it should be tied to an insurance rate reduction or stabilization.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

99th CONGRESS HEADS FOR LEGISLATIVE FINALE

Congress returns from its Labor Day District Work Period on September 8 with no more than 20 legislative days left to wrap up its business prior to adjournment.

There's a lot to be done, particularly on spending bills for the 1987 fiscal year. About half of the federal government's trillion dollar budget is controlled through annual spending bills. Money for the rest, including social security and interest on the federal debt, is permanently appropriated.

The House of Representatives has passed 10 of the 13 spending measures, and the Senate has acted on only two. Pending in the House are the defense, foreign operations and housing appropriations bills. Regrettably, Congress probably will combine most of the 13 spending bills into an omnibus "continuing resolution" to carry the government through the beginning of 1987. Continuing resolutions are no way to run a government.

Congress also faces the problem of repairing the constitutional flaw in the Gramm-Rudman budget balancing act which gradually reduces the deficit each year over a five-year period to put the budget under control. A July 7 Supreme Court ruling struck down as unconstitutional the law's core provision which triggered automatic spending cuts each year if Congress failed to meet specified budget targets.

Both the House and the Senate must vote on the conference report on the tax overhaul bill before it can become law.

The budget reconciliation bill, the legislation by which the Congress enforces the reductions in spending set out in the budget for the coming year, also awaits action.

In direct response to President Reagan's request, the House is expected, immediately upon its return to Washington, to take up an omnibus anti-drug abuse bill. Its provisions range from proposals to prohibit the laundering of illegal drug money to a massive education program aimed at preventing drug abuse to nearly $1 billion for new prison construction.

On September 10, the House Rules Committee on which I serve will take up a new comprehensive immigration reform bill. In years past, immigration bills have died in Congress' eleventh hour considerations due to sharp differences over employer sanctions, amnesty for illegal aliens already in this country and the proposal for a permanent resident status program for foreigners who can prove they worked at least 60 days in American agriculture.

Conference committees are expected to reach agreements which will be acted on by October 3 on South Africa sanctions, superfund (toxic waste cleanup) financing and Pentagon reorganization. The reorganization legislation is designed to shift bureaucratic power within the Pentagon from the separate armed services to the senior officials intended to coordinate the services—the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the commanders in chief of the combat forces in the field.

Tillman shines in Wildcat victory

POPLARVILLE—Freshman Gerald Tillman passed for two touchdowns Saturday night to lead the Pearl River College Wildcats to a 23-6 non-division win over Coahoma.

The Wildcats first score came with 8:16 left in the first quarter on a gift as Coahoma's punter was unable to retrieve a high snap from center, resulting in a safety for Pearl River. The Tigers were stymied by the Wildcat defense all night long. In fact, the 'Cats allowed the Coahoma bunch only 29 total offensive yards and two first downs.

On the first play of the second quarter, Wildcat runner Jerry Rush scored on a 19 yard run. Joey Tatum added the PAT and PRC lead 9-0.

Still in the second stanza, quarterback Tillman hooked up with Arthur Dozier for a 35 yard touchdown, capping a 73 yard nine-play drive. Tatum's kick put the 'Cats ahead 16-0 with 2:11 left in the first half.

Coahoma put its only points on the board with only three seconds remaining before halftime as Wade Streeter sneaked in from the one.

The extra point was no good.

The Tigers score came after a super 53 yard catch by Fredrick Jones from Streeter at the five. The PRC defense held on the Tigers first two tries.

After a scoreless third period, Pearl River put the finishing touches on with a 1:39 left to play as Bassfield's Darryl Thompson gathered in Tillman's nine yard pass for a score. The touchdown capped a 56 yard drive in just four plays, including a 35 yard run by Tillman. Tatum kicked the PAT.

It was a successful debut for the Wishbone offense for the Wildcats as six running backs amassed 196 total yards on the ground. Fullback Melvin Spears led the attack with 40 yards on 11 carries. PRC collected 296 total yards.

Shunn Stubbs led the defense with six tackles, one assist and one sack. Marshall Roberts had six tackles and one assist while Roy Wayne Jones collected five tackles, one assist and recorded two sacks. Lionel Ellison had four tackles, two assists and two sacks.

The Wildcats will open its 1986 home schedule against Jones Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the Dohie Holden Stadium.

USM opens season Sept. 6

HATTIESBURG—The 70th USM football season opens Saturday, Sept. 6 as the Golden Eagles play host to the Northeast Louisiana Indians in a scheduled 7:00 p.m. kickoff in Roberts Stadium.

The Golden Eagles are coming off a 7-4 season and the anticipation for the 1986 version of head coach Jim Carmody's troops is high. The Indians are also coming off a winning season (6-5) and have 20 starters back for head coach Pat Collins' club. The record books show just one meeting between the two institutions, with the Golden Eagles winning by a 45-27 count in 1982. Ironically it was that game that marked the return of Carmody to the Hattiesburg campus as head coach.

One reason for the high expectations among Eagle fans is the return of 13 starters among 39 returning lettermen. The explosive Eagle offense has some key players returning to the skill positions including quarterback Andrew Anderson, who threw for 1,319 yards and 10 touchdowns, and big play men Andrew Mott (1,960 all-purpose yards), Vincent Alexander (837 yards rushing), and Lyneal Alston (23.6 yards per catch), all capable of making it tough on opposing defenses.

Not only does an exciting offense return from last season's 7-4 team, but some key defensive players are back to spearhead a unit that held five of its opponents to seven points or less, including two shutouts. Those players include last year's leading tackler Onesimus Henry (121 tackles), as well as 1985 starters Steve Brown, Sidney Coleman, Tim Harris, and Collins Hess.

But the Indians will be a formidable task for Carmody's club. They are led offensively by last season's leading rusher Jimmy Harris (541 yards). On the other side of the ball it's leading tackler Roger Kelley who returns to spearhead the defense. Last season Kelley was credited with 140 tackles.

The last time the two teams met, sophomore tailback Sam DeJarnette ran for 171 yards and scored two touchdowns and senior quarterback Reggie Collier rushed for 106 yards and two touchdowns as the Golden Eagles knocked off Northeast Louisiana 45-27 in the 1982 season opener. USM broke the game open at the start of the second half when Louis Lipps returned a punt 50 yards for a touchdown to make it 28-17. The Eagles rolled up 417 yards of total offense, including 334 yards on the ground.

Saturday's game between USM and NLU can be heard on the Golden Eagle Network on stations throughout the state. Veteran broadcaster, John Cox, will handle the play-by-play action, with former Golden Eagle quarterback, Vic Purvis, doing the color commentary. Broadcast time is 6:15 p.m.

Ticket manager James Trussell and athletic director Bill McLellan have also announced a new ticket policy for children under 12. Tickets for children 12 and under will go on sale two hours before kickoff for just $1. The seats are located in the south end zone and are limited. For Saturday's clash against Northeast Louisiana the first 500 children 12 or under will receive a free black and gold visor compliments of Let's Entertain.

Regular tickets also remain on sale, by calling the athletic office (601-266-5017) or the in-state toll free number (1-800-222-1605).

Following the opener, the Eagles play four straight on the road (Alabama, Mississippi St., Texas A and M and Kentucky) and enjoy an open date before finally returning to Roberts Stadium for homecoming, Oct. 18, against Memphis St.

SPACE PROBLEMS—Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh displays tax statements and mailers Tuesday during a discussion of a resolution calling for the printing of a breakdown of school district and county taxes on receipts. The board of supervisors approved the resolution, which was presented by Frank Lee of Hancock County Farm Bureau. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Supervisors okay tax, elections resolutions

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has agreed to present two Hancock County Farm Bureau resolutions to the Mississippi Association of Supervisors.

The education-related resolutions were presented to the supervisors Tuesday by Farm Bureau representative Frank Lee, who said farm bureau members are presenting the same resolutions to boards of supervisors throughout Mississippi.

In one of the resolutions, the Farm Bureau Board of Directors recommends that the amounts listed on taxpayer statements be broken down to how much ad valorem tax is being levied for county expenses and how much is being levied for school district expenses.

All five board members favored including a breakdown. Board President and Beat Two Supervisor A.A. Kellar said he would be particularly willing to vote for the idea in view of an anticipated increase in school taxes this year.

Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh, however, said doing so would be impossible without spending $30,000 for new computer programming.

He displayed a tax statement for members of the board and explained that this year's statement must carry two additional lines of printed information mandated by the State Tax Commission.

Because the two lines are being added and because a small-sized statement form is used, the statements have no room for additional information, Murtagh said. All of this year's statements have already been printed and prepared for mailing.

There is a possibility such information could be placed on a mailer the office uses, he added.

Any new information, however, would call for additional programming and related costs.

Murtagh said he is planning to compile information including the prospective breakdown for release to the local press and will post the information in his office as well.

The second resolution concerned the election of school board members.

School board members in Hancock County are presently elected to six-year terms on a staggered schedule.

The resolution calls for their election to four-year terms on the same schedule as other county officials.

Lee said the resolution had been drafted in an effort to increase the participation in school board elections.

The board approved the resolution unanimously.

In addition, the board approved a proposal by Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge, who asked to amend the resolution to include a requirement that all school board candidates have a high school education.

In other business Tuesday, the supervisors:

—Received a petition from Peter LeStelle of the Hancock County Firefighters Association, which requested that the county levy the full four mill tax allowed by law for fire protection districts and provide volunteer fire departments with support of $100 per year per active member;

—Approved a proposal for asphaltting Texas Flat Road from Highway 603 to McLeod Park at an approximate cost of $59,275;

—Accepted bids on a pick-up truck for use of County Road Superintendent William Johnson;

—Approved the use of certified time sheets for employees in the county's Justice Court, Civil Defense and Veterans Service Departments; —Purchased a sand sifter and tractor for use by a recently formed beach maintenance crew; and accepted a bid from Fore Concrete for materials for emergency repair of Beach Boulevard at Ramaneda Street.

The board meets again at 9 a.m. Sept. 15.

Supervisors split another decision

County to take bids on central barn

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has decided on a split vote to advertise for bids on construction of a central equipment barn before the barn site is purchased.

Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner said the land, which is adjacent to the Highway 43 Community Center in Kiln, could be purchased during the 30 days required for the legal advertisement on the construction bids.

The board was expected to take action on the matter at its Aug. 28 meeting, but the purchase was delayed because the owners requested time to obtain additional appraisals on the property.

Beat Five Supervisor James Travirca and Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge voted for Ladner's motion to advertise for bids.

Beat Two Supervisor and Board President A.A. Kellar and Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro both voted against it.

Bids are to be opened at the board's Oct. 6 meeting. The estimated price of the metal structure, which will have a brick veneer front and will include offices, storage space for road equipment and 14-foot high maintenance bays, is $80,000, according to Travirca.

Travirca adapted the plans for the structure from plans used by Harrison County to build a beat barn in Gulfport.

The proposed barn sites are to the west of the community center and behind the center.

The county already owns part of the needed land on both sites.

Perniciaro said he does not object to either site, but he does object to advertising for the building before the board has specific information about drainage, soil type and other factors affecting the barn's foundation.

"I just don't want to bid a building when we've got no place to put it," Perniciaro said.

Kellar argued both with the price and the need for all of the features proposed for the barn.

"I can't see to save my neck why we should spend so much. We've been talking about the $80,000 this barn cost Harrison County back when it was built but now we're talking about something that will cost over $100,000," Kellar said.

Ladner and Perniciaro agreed that some money could be saved if county crews and equipment can be used for site preparations.

Courge disagreed, stating that he feels the county should not become involved in the dirt work.

"The county's in the dirt business anyway. Why shouldn't we furnish the dirt?" Ladner asked.

Courge said he does not want the county to be held liable if problems develop with the foundation.

"Well, I don't know what my equipment will do when it gets under a roof," Kellar said. "It's never been under one."

Weekly State Crop Report

Rain delays some harvesting but moisture is still welcome

MISSISSIPPI STATE—Two to three inches of rain in some parts of the state last week brought relief to drought-stricken crops but slowed harvesting of the state's corn and grain sorghum crops.

Rains have delayed much of the harvesting, said Dr. Wayne Jordan, leader of the Mississippi

(Covering Week of Aug. 23-29)

Cooperative Extension Service Agronomy Department.

"Until the delay, grain harvest was running well ahead of last year's pace and well ahead of average," Jordan said. "Grain sorghum and corn are both about 50 percent harvested."

Mississippi's 250,000-acre grain sorghum crop has been plagued by multiple problems this season. Dry weather during planting forced many producers to plant past the recommended dates, and the insect midge has now infested much of the crop.

"Midge infestations are reducing yields and test weights on grain sorghum," Jordan said. "Yields are going to be below last year and below the state average."

But all the news isn't bad. Corn producers are harvesting some high-yielding corn. Some dryland corn is exceeding 100 bushels per acre, and irrigated corn is in the 150-bushel-to-170-bushel-per-acre range.

Jordan said cotton harvesting in the state should be in full swing in the next 7 to 10 days. The agronomist added that cotton yields are also going to be down because of the drought.

Even though much of the state's 2.5-million acre soybean crop has already received permanent damage from dry, hot weather, Jordan said some of the late-planted and late-maturing soybean fields were helped by recent rains.

"But we are seeing insect infestations and late-season diseases in the late beans," Jordan said. "These problems could affect the yields of these beans."

In related agriculture news, county Extension agents reported corn and grain sorghum producers were harvesting last week, but other crops still need rain.

In Tippah County in north

Mississippi, Extension agent James Clarke said farmers are harvesting silage and cutting hay.

"Cotton is opening sooner than last year's crop due to the hot, dry weather," Clarke said. "All crop yields will be cut due to a lack of moisture."

Itawamba County Agent Jimmy Luther said corn producers are harvesting and storing corn, and most fields in the county are still dry.

Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation

The proximity of a hospital to the population it serves oftentimes is the difference between life and death, and this guideline in the mid-1940's prompted rural people throughout the United States to push Congress to enact legislation which would spur the construction and maintenance of hospitals at the county level.

Farmers, acting through their own organization—the Farm Bureau—took up the cry for this nation to extend hospital facilities closer to the people regardless of where they live through a federal-state hospital construction program.

At that time the president of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation, Ransom Aldrich of Benton county, served as chairman of the American Farm Bureau Federation's medical care and hospital committee, and went to Washington in October, 1945, to discuss enabling legislation with Senators Hill and Burton who had introduced a satisfactory bill for that purpose in January of that year.

Congress concurred with the rural hospital concept and passed the Hill-Burton Act which authorized $5 million for payments to states for the purpose of inventorying their existing hospital facilities and expansion needs. The Act also provided $100 million in hospital construction funds during the first year.

With that act funded and operational in this state through the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care, little time was lost in developing the community hospital concept in Mississippi, bringing a share of the emergency and extended hospital care facilities away from urban areas for more adequate service to rural areas.

The results of that program over the next quarter of a century in Mississippi was staggering. By 1960 135 new hospitals were constructed in the state containing 6,900 beds—built at a total cost of $101,055,855. By 1970 nine additional hospitals were under construction, adding another 686 beds to the state system.

In carrying out this massive program, states were required to match federal funds in varying percentages, ranging from 25 to 75 percent. The percent of federal funding was affected by population in given areas.

Those were "the good old days" as far as Mississippi hospital care was concerned. Yet today, only a decade and a half later, that sunburst showered on state hospital care throughout Mississippi is being eclipsed by new federal budgeting and administrative guidelines to the degree that nearly half of these rural

Bay council awards paving contract for portions of several city streets

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Bay St. Louis City Council awarded a project to Necaise Construction Co. of Gulfport Tuesday for paving several city streets.

Necaise submitted the low bid of $48,603 for the project which includes portions of Union Street, Dogwood Drive, St. John Street, Cedar Point Road and a portion of the annexed area north of US-90 including Lincoln, Mercury, Buick and Cadillac drives.

City Clerk Edward Favre said the work should be started as soon as the weather permits and should take only a few weeks.

Roadbed preparation work is nearly complete, he added.

Other bidders for the project include Bush Construction Co., Inc. of Laurel, $51,011 and Barriere Construction Co., Inc. of New Orleans, $62,682.

Also at the meeting, the board heard a petition presented by Dr. Bertin C. Chevris supporting the zoning change to Hospital-Clinic for the Drinkwater Road area around the hospital.

The petition included 62 signatures.

The board also accepted bids totaling $314 for surplus property including two cars, a generator, scrap metal and a gas tank.

No bids were received on several other items of surplus property and the board authorized the disposal of these items.

Public hearings on property clean-up proposals were set to begin at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 7. Included among these are a lot at the intersection of Hancock and Bookter owned by One Oak, Inc.; 311 Union St. owned by Orest Laurent, and a vacant lot on Webb Street near the railroad tracks owned by Joe Buccola.

Waveland protesters petition against one-way street

BY DENA BISNETTE
The Waveland Board of Aldermen is looking into a dispute over whether a section of St. Joseph Street should be made a one-way street.

Last month, the board had agreed that its attorney, Lucien Gex, should draw up a resolution making the street one-way toward the beach from Bourgeois Street.

Two blocks would be affected if the board honors the request, presented by St. Joseph Street resident Dorothy Sutton with a petition signed by other residents.

On Tuesday, the board received a second petition, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ferrell, who maintain that the street should remain open to two-way traffic.

Ward Three Alderman Louis Smolensky said he wanted to discuss the matter with the objectors before any action is taken.

In addition, Mayor John Longo Jr. has requested input on the matter from the city fire and police departments because a substation for both agencies is located on Bourgeois Street.

Sutton said she feels making the street one-way will decrease existing safety hazards and make it more convenient for the mothers who use the street when taking children to St. Clare School.

Lee maintained that declaring St. Joseph Street one way will contribute to safety hazards at the Bourgeois Street intersection and make it inconvenient for residents to reach their homes because they will have to drive through traffic on Coleman Avenue.

Also on Tuesday, Longo and all four board members qualified to run in the city's Democratic primary Nov. 4.

Longo is so far unopposed in his bid for another term as mayor, City

Clerk Arcelyn Dastugue said. Also unopposed are Ward One Alderman Barbara Rappold, Ward Two Alderman Bob Hubbard and Smolensky.

Yarborough will be opposed in Ward Four by Shirley Cox.

In other business, the board: —Authorized Ward Four Alderman and City Superintendent Herman Yarborough to place a six-foot fence behind the Waveland Civic Center to discourage vandalism and to consider placing a spotlight behind the building as well; and —Discussed but took no action on the proposed purchase of uniforms for city meter readers and other outside employees.

The board has scheduled a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The agenda includes the approval of Waveland's 1986-87 proposed budget and 1985-86 amended budget.

Baba au Rhum, that ever-so-delicate, almost-melt-in-the-mouth cake, with its rich aroma and taste of rum, is in truth a dessert "fit for a King" - and, as the old tale goes, it was, in fact a long-ago royal ruler who invented or started this dessert.

And, he named it for one of his great heroes, the legendary Ali Baba. Surely, you recall - Ali Baba was the woodcutter in the "Arabian Nights Entertainments" who entered the cave of the Forty Thieves by using the password "Open Sesame" - and even these days we use the term to signify something that brings about the end or solution to some project or problem.

Whatever its origin, the Baba au Rhum has been a favorite in many parts of the world ever since the early nineteenth century, we are told. Though elegant, it is not all that difficult to make, and well worth the effort.

It's delicious served plain, and a special treat with fruit and cream added. So, here's:

BABA AU RHUM

2 cups flour (all purpose)
¼ cup warm water
1 pkg. active dry yeast
¼ tsp. salt
2 eggs
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
¼ cup dark rum
Strawberries and whipped cream, optional

Sift flour into a warmed mixing bowl, and make a well in the center. Place the warm water, yeast and salt in the well, stirring to dissolve the yeast. Next, add the eggs, the butter or margarine and two tablespoons of sugar, mixing thoroughly.

Knead the dough, lifting it and slapping it back into the bowl, as it gradually becomes smooth - it will be quite sticky at first, but be patient - it will smooth out. Keep kneading until the dough detaches itself from the sides of the bowl.

Shape the dough into a ball with your hands, then put it back into the bowl, and cover with a towel, and set in a draft free warm place to rise. After approximately 45 minutes - by then the dough should be doubled in bulk - punch the dough down.

Place the dough in a fancy mold of some sort or other, or in other oven-proof dish, cover, and let rise for a half hour, until doubled, then bake in a 375 degree oven for 30 minutes, perhaps a few minutes more.

While it is baking, heat the water and a cup of sugar, stirring to dissolve, the sugar. Remove from heat, and add the lemon juice and rum. Let the cake cool, then unmold it and set it in a wide soup or other plate.

Pricking the cake with a fork - preferably a two-tine one, pour the rum syrup over, and cool again, basting with the rum syrup until the cake is well-soaked, then set on your prettiest platter or cake dish.

If you wish, embellish further with strawberries and whipped cream - wow!

P.S. And, if you wish individual servings - or Petits Babes au Rhum - spoon the batter into fluted dessert cups or muffin cups, and let it rise until the batter just reaches the tops of the cups, about approximately a half hour, then bake.

Tigers to open battle with Stone backfield

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis High School Tigers will face a veteran backfield and a fast quarterback Friday when they open their 1986 season against the Stone County Tomcats.

"The Tigers have their hands full for Friday night's contest," Bay Head Coach Cleveland Williams said.

He said his team will face a well-balanced ball club and a speedy Mike Howze, a senior who sprints 100 yards in 9.7 seconds.

"Stone County's backfield is well experienced. They have a host of receivers working with a quarterback who is a scrambler," the coach added.

"The Tomcats will be young on the line, but they will be huge."

Bay High is in a similar position for Friday in the backfield, with most of its returning starters behind the line.

"We lost a lot to graduation last year, but I do feel we have the nucleus of a real fine ball club," the coach said.

"Our strong point will be our backfield and receivers. We do have six players who are experienced on offense and have a lot of playing time, and we have a few more who are looking promising."

"We are green on defense but the ones who will start for the Tigers are hard-nosed kids who love contact," he added.

Size is one factor the Tigers do not have in common with Stone County. While Stone County is a large team, most of Bay High's players are small this year and will have to rely on speed, Williams said.

"We will be a lot smaller than last year's club but we hope that our quickness can compensate for our opponent's size," he explained.

The Tigers have 45 players this year and will include ninth grade athletes, who will form the Tiger B Team along with sophomores and first-year juniors.

The B Team will play a five-game schedule that Williams expects to provide his younger players with game experience they will not be able to obtain on the varsity level.

Probable starters for the Stone High game, the first in the Tiger varsity's nine-game schedule, include Dwayne Robertson, a six-foot-three senior quarterback who transferred to Bay High from East Marion High School.

Other veterans Williams said would probably see action Friday night include Quentin Bell, Aaron Whavers and Howard Dempsey.

Rocks ready for opener against Pearl River, La.

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will open the 1986 high school football season against Pearl River Rebels in Pearl River, La. on Friday.

The Rock-A-Chaws will field a young squad, but will carry depth team members for the first high school encounter ever with Pearl River.

A game was scheduled for the 1985 season, but was canceled due to Hurricane Elena, Head Coach Vernon Powell said.

The Rocks squad of 50 only has nine seniors and will face a Pearl River team with a tailback rated number one in his district in 1985.

"We scouted Pearl River last week, and their tailback carried nine times in a jamboree game against North Shore in limited play for 163 yards, but the Rocks will be ready for him this week," Powell stated Tuesday.

Pearl River also has size across the line averaging over 210 pounds, Powell said.

Three starters from the 1985 Rocks whom Powell will be expecting a lot from will be; Jose Lau, tackle; Ya-Sin Shabazz, quarterback; and Blake Boudreaux, tight end.

In commenting on the young Rocks, Powell stated, "We have had several seniors, juniors, and sophomores who have started pushing the team, and this gives the team a very good attitude."

"We realize a starting role will be new for many players, yet they all appear ready to meet the challenge," Powell added.

Powell who also serves as athletic director, said, he and his assistant coaches have had a lot of teaching to do during spring and pre-season practice, as many of the team's members will be playing for the first time on the varsity level.

"I will go into the game with the intentions of every member of the squad playing if the opportunity arises," Powell allowed.

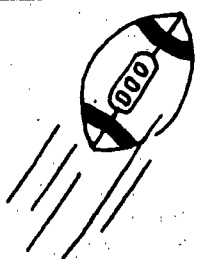

Next week St. Stanislaus will play St. John's Eagles in Rocks first home game of the season.

Coast Episcopal Raiders to open Saturday

Coast Episcopal High School Raiders open Saturday in Baton Rouge at 4 p.m. against Calvary Heights.

The Raiders participated in a jamboree at Bible Baptist in Gulfport Friday night and played against Stewart Street Academy of Milton, Fla. and Bethel Home from Alabama.

The Raiders lost both scrimmages.

The scrimmages were highlighted by offensive and defensive line work of senior John Gregory from Pass Christian who was in on numerous tackles throughout the games, said Coach Terry Mahan.

Quarterback Sterling Thibodeaux of Pass Christian completed 66 percent of his passes for a total of 66 yards and also ran for 41 yards on four carries.

Ends Keith Ott of Waveland and Rea Montjoy of Bay St. Louis were on the receiving end of those passes. At linebacker, the play of Victor Marchese of Bay St. Louis and Mike Hart of Biloxi was outstanding, Mahan reported.

Mahan said with continued improvement in the coming weeks, the Raiders should be engaged in an exciting season of eight man football.

Wildcat, Bobcat rivalry continues

The two arch rivals clash for the 56th time Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. on the Pearl River campus in Poplarville. The series which began in the late twenties is just about as close as can be.

The Bobcats, who won last year's contest 19-14 at Ellisville, have taken the series lead 27-27-2. In fact the Sim Cooley lead Bobcats have defeated the Wildcats three straight years and seven of the last nine times the two JuCo powers have met.

Pearl River's last win came in 1982 when the then J.C. Arban led Wildcats won 28-16. The year before, the two battled to a 30-30 deadlock in Laurel.

In seasoners openers for both teams this past Saturday, the Wildcats won 23-6 over the Coahoma Tigers, while the Bobcats were surprised by the Northeast Tigers 28-17. "Jones' losing to Northeast makes this week's game with us even bigger," said Mike Nelson, The PRC head coach. "In fact, the game is critical to both teams. Even though it's early in the year."

A Wildcat win would put the Bobcats' backs to the wall in the tough South Division. A Bobcat win would take away a lot of the air in the Wildcats' resurgence.

"We think we have a good team," Nelson said. "We think we are strong and are contenders. But this game will tell us just how strong." Nelson opened up his Wishbone offense against the Tigers this past Saturday at Clarksdale. Overall the offensive picked up 296 yards, but the unit made many mental mistakes.

"I think...I hope we got those mistakes corrected this past Monday," Nelson said.

Freshman quarterback Gerald Tillman connected on two touchdown passes to lead the PRC attack. Running back Thurman Geathers of Georgetown, SC, impressed Nelson and his assistants Herbert Morris, Mike Harris, and Bill Martin.

Tillman ran the Wishbone well and Geathers picked up some tough yardage.

Tillman relieved sophomore Scott Favre in the first and fourth quarters. "I know what Scott can do," Nelson said. "Now I know Gerald is ready to play also. It is a good feeling to have two competent quarterbacks."

The Pearl River defensive unit was very impressive this past week. The PRC unit allowed a total 29 yards, which included only two first half first downs.

"We had a super defensive effort from our cornerbacks," Nelson said. "Larry Copeland and Brendon Averett did an outstanding job against some real fine receivers."

Nelson said his defense had a good pass rush, but he honestly does not know how strong the defense will be against the run. "They (Coahoma) did not have a quality running game," Nelson said. "So we still don't know how strong we are against the run."

The Wildcats' Joey Tatum of Picayune missed two field goal attempts but connected on all three PAT's. "Joey missed from 40 and 45 yards but I'm not all that concerned," Nelson said. "The field was in terrible shape. The grass was four inches high and the sod was poor. It was just not conducive to a soccer-style kicker."

A capacity crowd is expected at the Dobie Holden Stadium this Saturday. Gates will open at 6 p.m.

BWYC wins 1986 Lipton

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club has won the 67th Lipton Regatta with three first place finishes and one second place in the four-race series.

Bay-Waveland's lead in the regatta, held on Lake Ponchartrain over the Labor Day Weekend, was 10.5 points over Southern Yacht Club, the second place winners.

Bay-Waveland's first place finishes included Peter Merrifield with Bubby Eagan as crew, Marc Eagan with Mac Hadden as crew, and Dennis Stieffel with Rene Dupiquier and Missy Breath as crew.

Corky Hadden, with Bubby Eagan as crew, contributed the second place finish.

In winning the Lipton, Bay-Waveland has increased its record to four wins in the last five Lipton regattas. The victory is the yacht club's seventh win since 1977.

As winner, Bay-Waveland will host the 1987 Lipton.

Pass Christian Yacht Club also competed in the event and placed sixth.

POPLARVILLE—After only a couple of months of existence the Pearl River College Wildcat Club has more than 100 members and is growing by the day.

At an Aug. 19 meeting, 75 members showed up for a 'Meet the Wildcats' evening in the PRC cafeteria. There was plenty of shrimp for everyone and plenty of enthusiasm boiling over for the '86 year.

Larry McPhail of Hattiesburg is president of the new organization with D. R. Davis of Poplarville serving as secretary, Sidney Malone of Hattiesburg as vice-president and Sammy Davis of Collins as treasurer.

The Wildcat club is planning to raise money for new equipment for the weight room, a press guide, championship flags, a new trophy case and chair seats in the M. R. White Coliseum.

President McPhail said the club is interested in starting a Pearl River College Hall of Fame. McPhail also said the Wildcat Club is for all PRC athletics and not just football.

In fact, three business meetings will correspond with the football, basketball and baseball season. The first social meeting of the year will be held at the Dobie Holden Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 6 when the Wildcats tangle with the Jones Junior College Bobcats.

The Wildcat Club board of directors include Richard Dossett, Pearl River County; Mike Necaise, Hancock County; Charles Hutchison, Jefferson Davis County; Johnny Adams, Lamar County; Scooter

Dove season opens Sept. 6

JACKSON—Saturday, Sept. 6 is a date already set in the minds of most Mississippi hunters. It is the opening day of the First of Mississippi's three dove seasons, and as such it marks the beginning of the fall hunting season.

State dove shooters will have 70 days of hunting this year divided into three seasons. The first one will continue through Sept. 28.

The second season opens Oct. 18 and ends Nov. 16, with the third season opening Dec. 20 and continuing through Jan. 5.

As most hunters already know, their shotguns must be plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells.

Dove hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. The bag limit is 12 and the possession limit is 24. No possession limit is permitted on the opening day of any season.

Resident hunters 16 through 65, unless otherwise exempt, and all non-resident hunters, must have a valid hunting license on their person before going afield.

A resident small game hunting license costs $6. The least expensive non-resident license for hunting dove is the seven-day small game hunting license for $20.

REFUNDS FOR WILDLIFE
Well over $48,000 has been contributed to the Mississippi Wildlife Heritage Program to help protect nongame wildlife, threatened and endangered species, and unique natural areas.

The money came from nearly 8,200 Mississippians who contributed part of their 1985 state income tax refund.

A portion of the money was earmarked recently by the Commission on Wildlife Conservation to help bring back nesting bald eagles to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Monies will be used to fund a Conservation Research Grant program, and to republish a two-volume cassette recording of Mississippi bird songs.

Funds received through income tax donations make up most of the funding available for work with nongame wildlife and endangered species in this state.

"This will be Phase I of the enrollment process. You will be asked to sign documents prior to the actual enrollment of your child during the phase," according to Jean Dorsey, program spokesman.

The enrollment will not be complete until phase II, which will be held on Sept. 12 at Bay-Waveland and Catahoula at 8:30 a.m., she added.

Phase I of the enrollment process will be held as follows:

Five-year-olds, Sept. 8, 8 to 11 a.m.

Four-year-olds, Sept. 8, 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Four-year-olds, Sept. 9, 8 to 10 a.m.

Three-year-olds, Sept. 9, 11 a.m. until.

"Also, if you have a child between the ages of 3-4 years of age who is not yet registered, you may do so at that time," Dorsey added.

For information contact your local Headstart center at Bay-Waveland, 467-3285; Mt. Zion, 533-7885; Catahoula, 255-7312.

"Remember, Headstart is for the handicapped too," Dorsey added.

Waves are caused by wind. Storms can cause the big waves of the open ocean to travel great distances. For instance, waves from Antarctic storms have damaged ships anchored in the Los Angeles harbor.

Over 23 million adult Americans are functionally illiterate, and the number is growing by more than two million per year. More than half are women and most of them are poor. Only 2 to 4 percent of illiterate adults are enrolled in literacy programs.

Pearl River names admissions director

POPLARVILLE - Joseph Dow Ford, an administrative assistant at Clarke Junior College in Newton, has been named director of admissions at Pearl River College.

Ford will replace Dr. Willis Lott, who recently was named dean of academics here at Mississippi's pioneer junior college.

"I'm pleased to be a part of this growing, moving educational system," Ford said after President Ted J. Alexander made the announcement of his hiring here Friday.

"Pearl River is in the midst of one of the fastest growing areas in the state. PRC has a great future and I'm proud to be a part of this growing, progressive institution," Ford said.

Ford, a native of Bay Springs, has a MA and BA in English from Mississippi College. He also obtained an associate of arts degree from Clarke College.

Ford was first employed at Clarke College in 1974 when he became instructor of English, speech and journalism. In 1979 he was named registrar and director of public relations at Hannibal-LaGrange College in Hannibal, Missouri.

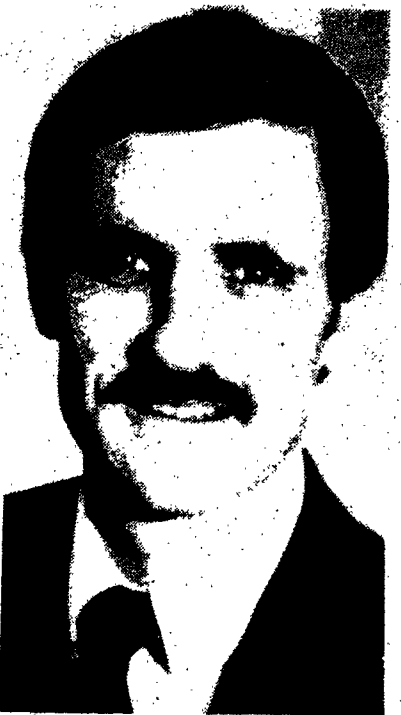

He stayed at the Missouri college until 1979 when he returned to his alma mater to become administrative assistant responsible for admissions, public relations and student services.

While in college, the new Pearl River director of admissions received the Tima Newsom Sullivan Award for creative writing, an academic achievement award and a junior college scholarship to Mississippi College.

Ford is presently serving as president of the Newton PTA and Parents for Gifted Students. He is committee chairman for the Newton "Open Air A'fair" and is coach of the Tee-Ball and Girl's Softball League and past officer of the Newton Rotary Club.

Ford, 35, is married to the former Gretta Benefield and they have three children, Dawn 12, Robyn 9 and April 6. The Fords will be moving to the Poplarville area immediately.

"Over 6,000 adults in Harrison

United States Coast Guard Academy offers competition

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1991.

Applications are being accepted for both men and women.

Appointments as Coast Guard Cadets are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to December 15.

Candidates must arrange to participate in either the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT) prior to or including the December 13, administration for the ACT, and the December 6, administration for the SAT.

The competition for appointment as Cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, performance on either the SAT or ACT, and leadership potential as demonstrated by participation in high school extracurricular activities, community affairs and/or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried at the time of appointment, have no legal obligations resulting from a prior marriage, and must have reached the age of 17 but not 22 by July 1, 1987.

All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1987. Regulations stipulate that all applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics to include algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill basic physical requirements.

Coast Guard Cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal expense. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated Academy curriculum leads to a Bachelor of Science degree with a strong academic emphasis on engineering and science.

The selected major studies, when combined with varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the Academy are awarded a Bachelor of Science degree and are commissioned as Ensigns in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training at many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools, in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law and oceanography.

The young Academy graduate can look forward to a varied, exciting, and demanding career as a regular Coast Guard Officer. The Coast Guard performs essential humanitarian missions vital to the safety and saving of lives at sea.

Under the Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard establishes and coordinates search and rescue operations by ship and plane, maintains advanced electronic and other aids to navigation scattered around the globe, operates the icebreakers which clear the way for all polar expeditions, and enforces marine law and all aspects of merchant marine safety.

In addition, the Coast Guard has responsibility for boating safety and marine environmental protection.

For information write: Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, CT 06320 or call (203) 444-8501.

The Captain's back!

Captain Kangaroo returns in November

Captain Kangaroo the longest-running children's series in American television history, will be seen again this Fall on over 175 public television stations, including WYES-TV/12, which will begin airing the program Nov. 3 at 6 p.m.

The "Captain" will return (after a year-and-a-half absence from broadcasting) with 65 newly edited programs from his 1982-84 seasons on the CBS Network. The series is being distributed by the Boston-based Interregional Program Service, which syndicates a wide range of television programming to 250 public television member stations.

"I'm delighted that public television has made a home for the 'Captain,' where he will be able to serve contemporary American young people in the same way that he served their older siblings and parents," said Bob Keeshan (Captain Kangaroo). "It is further evidence of public television's concern for the family and American children."

The hour-long original programs are being edited to half-hour versions, which will maintain much of the same cast of characters which so delighted the generation of fans who watched and learned from the Captain from 1955 until 1984; Mr. Green Jeans (Hugh Brannum), the genial farmer; the silent, carrot-craving Bunny Rabbit; beloved scamp, Mr. Moose.

Rounding out the ensemble are

Cosmo (Gus) Allegretti, Carolyn Mignini, and Kevin Clash, who portray a variety of characters in the course of each program.

The series is made possible in part by School Zone Publishing Company of Grand Haven, Mich., publisher of educational materials for young children. Their support of Captain Kangaroo marks the first time the company has participated in public television underwriting.

In announcing their participation, School Zone President Joan Hoffman said, "Our company produces quality educational materials for children. Bob Keeshan produces quality television programs for children. Since we share a common interest in the welfare of young people, our commitment to the Captain Kangaroo series is natural and productive. We are delighted to be a part of the 'Captain's' return to television."

Keeshan has actively been lecturing around the country on topics related to children and television, and on June 26 presented a speech entitled "It's time to take children seriously!" in Greenville, S.C. He recently testified in front of the United States Judiciary Committee hearing on "TV Violence" on June 20.

CAPTAIN KANGAROO premiered on CBS in 1955, and continued on that network for nearly 30 years.

Bogalusa festival scheduled

The Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce Fall Arts, Crafts, and Antiques Festival will be held on October 4th and 5th at the Bogalusa American Legion Home on LA Highway 10 East. The Chamber hosts the Arts, Crafts, and Antiques Festival semi-annually, in the Spring and in the Fall.

This year's Fall Festival will highlight some of the finest artists, craftsmen, potters, antiques, and potted plants in Louisiana and Mississippi. Due to the tremendous response by exhibitors, this year the program will be staged in both buildings of the American Legion Home. This will allow us to give each exhibitor a little more room to work in.

The American Legion Home offers many advantages. The entire show will be held in-doors in air conditioned comfort. The weather will not be a threatening factor. The Legion Home has wide double doors and ground level loading in the main building. The second building is not ground level, but will be easily accessible for loading and unloading.

There will also be plenty of parking available with police directing the traffic flow. This will make traffic and parking much safer. Also, evening security for the exhibitors will be much greater because the American Legion Home can be locked securely at night.

During the two days of the show, free drawings for prizes will be held.

If you need further information or would like to register for the show, call us at the Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce (504) 735-5731, or write at 608 Willis Avenue, Bogalusa, La. 70427.
